ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Breakaway foam packing is disclosed. In one aspect, the present disclosure teaches a breakaway packing system for packaging an information handling system including a 10 packing support designed to receive at least a portion of an information handling system. The packing support secures the information handling system within a shipping container. The breakaway packing system also includes at least one detachable joint formed in the packing support.
15 The detachable joint operably detachable to cause the packing support to separate into sections.
